

A photograph of a single-story bungalow with a light-colored brick exterior. A small, separate extension made of white concrete blocks is attached to the left side of the main house. This extension has a gabled roof with exposed wooden beams and a white door with the number '60' on it. A blue trash bin sits near the entrance. The ground in front is covered in gravel.

60

The Plan: